RESOLUTION

Informing the American people of our Nation's progress in the world War on Terror, defining the situation and the stakes in the battle against the terrorist enemy in the sovereign, democratic, and united nation of Iraq, and declaring the unwavering dedication of the United States to defend humanity, expand liberty, defeat the terrorist enemy, and win the world War on Terror.

Whereas for over a decade the terrorist enemy has targeted and murdered innocent Americans because our free republic will never waver in our devotion to our liberty and equality, or in the defense of humanity;

Whereas the terrorist enemy's attacks upon our people tragically culminated in the murder of over 3,000 innocent Americans on September 11, 2001;

Whereas in this unsought struggle from the ashes we rose, and with our allies courageously engaged the terrorist enemy in the world War on Terror, a painful, purposeful, and inherently noble battle for the survival of our country and humanity's free future;

Whereas the world War on Terror will be won by the United States and our allies' successful eradication of the terrorist enemy, the elimination of state sponsorship of the terrorist enemy, the defense of our homeland and all humanity from the terrorist enemy's wanton murder, the prevention of the proliferation of weapons of mass destruction, the expansion of liberty to our fellow human beings, and the promotion of a clarion vision of and a transition to a more hopeful, peaceful, and prosperous life for oppressed peoples;

Whereas in the world War on Terror, the United States and our allies have achieved momentous victories through the liberation of Afghanistan from the odious rule of the terrorist-sponsoring Taliban, the renunciation by Libya of its terrorist practices and pursuit of weapons of mass destruction, the peaceful resolution of Lebanon's Cedar revolution, which freed its people from Syrian oppression, and the incipient expansion of democratic rights within other Middle Eastern nations;

Whereas all of these and other victories were achieved through the courageous and, in the most sorrowful instances, the ultimate, sacrifices of Americans, our allies, and these nations' citizens;

Whereas however, other necessary steps along the path to unconditional victory in the world War on Terror have proven less swift, especially in Iraq, where the murderous, terrorist-sponsoring, rogue regime of Saddam Hussein was summarily vanquished, but the now sovereign, democratic, and united nation's new birth of freedom still hangs in the balance;

Whereas the United States and our allies are not at war with the sovereign, democratic, and united nation of Iraq's government or its lawful citizens, but with the terrorist enemy in Iraq who would again enslave free Iraqis beneath a sadistic dictatorship;

Whereas the terrorist enemy, itself, has declared Iraq the central theater in the world War on Terror, because the sovereign, democratic, and united nation of Iraq will eliminate rather than abet the terrorist enemy, end Iraq's use as a staging base for terrorist attacks against the United States, our allies, and all of humanity, serve as a beacon of hope to oppressed peoples throughout the world, and severely damage the terrorist enemy's ability to pursue its invidious strategy to subjugate the broader Middle East and elsewhere under a barbarous yoke of totalitarianism;

Whereas the military personnel and civilians of the United States, our allies, and Iraq have heroically and historically sacrificed of themselves, even unto death, in the great moral undertaking of attaining and sustaining a free, sovereign, and united Iraqi state and, thereby, of advancing the cause of victory in the world War on Terror;

Whereas it is the commitment of the United States and our allies to finish our mission by facilitating Iraq's establishment of the security forces necessary to unilaterally eradicate its terrorist enemy within, by the reconstruction of Iraq's local and national economy and infrastructure, and by the preservation and promotion of Iraq's nascent democracy from its local town councils to its national government;

Whereas as evidenced by the elimination of Abu Musab al-Zarqawi, the leader of al Qaeda in Iraq, Iraqi security forces are steadily assuming a growing proportion of independent operations and responsibilities from the United States and our allies' forces in theater, and the final transition to Iraqi control of security within Iraq is attainable;

Whereas then, if the United States and its allies abandon Iraq, and any sovereign democracy, in the face of terrorist attack, the enemy will have won this battle, will have its horrific tactics rewarded and, so emboldened, will intensify its dark quest for world dominion;

Whereas in such an event, betrayed Iraqis in the tens of thousands will be butchered;

Whereas in such an event, every sacrifice, however great, of American, allied, and Iraqi military personnel and civilians in the cause of liberty and humanity will be squandered and desecrated; and

Whereas then, the stakes in securing a sovereign and self-sustaining Iraqi democracy, and this immediate goal's inseparability from the overarching goals of defending humanity, expanding liberty, and winning the world War on Terror, render the United States, our allies, and the Iraqi people duty-bound to prosecute this mission to its honorable and essential completion: Now, therefore, be it

6 and national economy and infrastructure, and by the 7 preservation and promotion of Iraq's nascent democ-
8 racy from its local town councils to its national gov-
9 ernment;

11 and eternal courage of American, allied, and Iraqi 12 citizen-soldiers and civilians who are or were actively 13 engaged in the critical battle to secure the future of 14 the sovereign, united and, ultimately, self-sustaining
15 Iraqi democracy;

16 (12) recognizes and honors the sacrifices and 17 eternal courage of American and allied citizens, and 18 all human beings free and yet to be free; and

19 (13) declares the United States will win the 20 world War on Terror.
